Theater of the Oppressed

Theater of the Oppressed was initially founded in Brazil by Augusto Boal. He first introduced it in the 1960's and later the idea was moved to Europe to expand.

Forum Theatre

- Creates a dialogue between the audience and one or more facilitators (“spect-actors” and “jokers”)
- A skit is performed to the audience by the actors
- The skit ends, the jokers process what occurred in the skit, discuss the outcome, and ask the audience how they would change the outcome (from a negative one to a more positive one)

Forum Theatre Rules

- Audience members (“spect-actors”) come up with solutions
- Jokers invite them (the spect-actors) to provide some concrete ideas that the actors will then demonstrate
- A major rule carried out in Forum Theater is there is no violence as violence is never a solution
